

QUESTAR III

Fall Institute - The Future of Education

WHO

Administrators, teachers, board of education members and anyone interested in preparing students for success in the 21st century' global and technology based economy. Teams of three or more educators are encouraged.

WHAT

21st Century Fall Institute - The Future of Education

Participants will experience the process of developing 21st century learning outcomes and alignment to the Partnership for 21st Century Skills framework. Teams will be able to assess readiness to move towards 21st Century instruction through participation in mini-sessions on:

- Need for a technology platform and social-networking tools,
- Assessments for 21st Century Skills,
- Business-community-school partnerships,
- Development of essential questions,
- Development of School Culture.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER: David Gibson, president and CEO of X-Ray Optical Systems, Inc., president of the Voorheesville School Board and a member of the Tech Valley School Foundation, will discuss the needs of business and industry that will drive change in how students are educated.

Fees: Free to Questar III and Capital Region BOCES component schools. Non-component school personnel are encouraged to register in teams of three or more where a package rate of $75-per-person is available. A $100 fee for individuals will be charged for those not taking part in the package deal.
